MCI Center

MCI Center

MCI CENTER

MCI Center, managed by Washington Sports & Entertainment, LP, is home to the NBA's Washington Wizards, the WNBA's Washington Mystics, the NHL's Washington Capitals, and the Georgetown Hoyas Men's Basketball team. Located in the heart of Chinatown off of the Gallery-Place Chinatown Metro stop, MCI Center is only a few steps away from the White House and hosts more than 220 events and concerts each year.

Since debuting in December of 1997, the state-of-the-art $200 million sports and entertainment complex has entertained over 17 million patrons with over 1,385 world class sporting events, concerts and family shows, including the 2003 World Figure Skating Championships, the first and second rounds of the 2002 and 1998 NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament, Madonna, Prince, Tim McGraw, Disney on Ice and the Harlem Globetrotters. Continuing the tradition as a downtown destination, MCI Center will host the 2005 ACC Tournament and the 2006 East Regional Round of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball tournament.

Located within the arena are 110 luxury suites, 4 executive suites, and a variety of concession stands and restaurants offering menu choices from Hunan Chinatown to Papa John's pizza to hot dogs and pretzels to crab cakes and deli sandwiches. Additional amenities include the private Acela Club Restaurant for club seat and suite holders, and the Modell's Sporting Goods Team Store.

MCI Center

PREMIUM SEATING

Featuring 2,280 Club Seats, 114 Executive Suites and our new Party Suite, MCI Center's Premium Seating offers unparalleled views of the NBA's Washington Wizards and the NHL's Washington Capitals.

Executive Suites begin just 19 rows from a Gilbert Arenas to Jerry Stackhouse no-look pass and feature all the comforts of home in addition to providing access to every MCI Center event (approximately 220 annually) including sports, family shows and concerts. Each tastefully-appointed private suite contains 12-18 theatre-style seats with remote control television, phone, refrigerator and icemaker, private restroom, individually controlled heat and air conditioning. Two underground parking passes accompany your suite along with exclusive membership to the Acela Club Restaurant and Lounge. The new Party Suite located on the Acela Club Level is a a unique hospitality area for up to 99 guests.

Fans can also watch the Wizards and other exciting events from the comfort of 21" extra wide Club Seats. The 2,280 Club Seats are located on a private concourse with its own outside entrance featuring mini-restaurants, private restrooms and the Acela Club, an exclusive restaurant for Premium Seating customers. Club seat holders also have first priority to purchase tickets for other MCI Center events.

ACELA CLUB

The Acela Club is the fine dining restaurant destination for club seat and suite holders at MCI Center. Operated by Chicago's Levy Restaurants, its appeal is great food, attentive service and an attractive ambiance in both a restaurant and bar setting. An open view of the event floor compliments an extensive menu of diverse food and beverage offerings available for pre-game, in-game and post-game dining and entertaining.

MODELL'S

The nation's oldest and largest family-owned sports and apparel retailer, Modell's Sporting Goods opened its first ever "Team Store" in MCI Center. This new concept store features a complete line of Wizards, Capitals, Mystics and Hoyas merchandise plus apparel from teams across the country. Founded in 1889, Modell's operates more than 70 stores, including 12 locally, with more expansion planned, offering a full line of athletic equipment, shoes and apparel.

Wizards Identity

After 36 seasons of professional basketball, Washington's NBA franchise introduced new logos and colors to accommodate the change of the team's nickname, as the team tipped off the 1997-98 season as the Washington Wizards. The new Wizards logos, created by the National Basketball Association, in collaboration with Nike, contain three vibrant colors: blue, black and bronze. The color blend represents the explosive energy that the basketball club brings to life and is synonymous with the colors that are prevalent in the logos of the Washington Mystics, Abe Pollin's other professional franchise.

"We wanted the NBA to design something sleek and progressive, showing action while giving the logo a classic look," said Chairman of Washington Sports and Entertainment Abe Pollin. "We feel this logo does all of these things and we are very proud of our new look."

The team's primary logo features a wizard leaping outstretched past the moon while holding a "burst of magic" in his right hand and spinning a basketball in his left hand. The Wizard, with a "W" emblazoned on his chest, is classic and precise. The "burst of magic" symbolizes the strength of the franchise and the spinning of the ball represents the team's talent. The moon takes on the appearance of a basketball and stands for the heights to which the franchise hopes to rise.

The secondary logo uses a modern, aggressive font to create the letters "dc." It places emphasis on the team's new home, at MCI Center, in the nation's capital. The Wizards wordmarks further illustrate the aura of energy and power with their bold, custom font. Through a licensing agreement with the NBA, Nike has obtained the right to produce authentic uniforms and courtside apparel for the Wizards, while Champion will create replica jerseys for the Wizards. All Wizards merchandise is available at Modell's Sporting Goods, the Wizards apparel headquarters, and through Aramark at 1-202-628-3200, ext. 6716.

The name change marks the third time in franchise history that the team has altered its nickname. After being created as the Chicago Packers in 1961, the club became the Chicago Zephyrs a year later. In 1963, Abe Pollin headed a group of investors which purchased the organization, moved the team to Baltimore and named the club the Baltimore Bullets.

The name depicts energy and an omnipresent power and brings to light the wise and magical nature of the team. It serves as a positive image for both the players and the organization.

"As I have said many times before, this was not an easy decision for me," added Pollin. "The Bullets have been a part of me for many years. But I no longer wanted my team associated with anything with a violent connotation. That's why we changed the name."

Pollin announced his intentions to re-name his basketball club on November 9, 1995, as part of an anti-violence movement. Through promotional partners Boston Market and NBC4, fans were able to vote on their favorite new nickname, and on February 22, 1996, Pollin announced that Wizards would be the club's new moniker. In addition to the new name, logos and colors, the team established a conflict resolution program with a focus on peer mediation and conflict resolution among high-risk teens in the Washington and Baltimore metropolitan areas.

ADMINISTRATION

CHAIRMEN

ABE AND IRENE POLLIN

Entering the 2004-05 season, Abe and Irene Pollin continue to hold the distinction of longest tenured owners in the National Basketball Association as they celebrate their 40th anniversary of team ownership. Since becoming owners in 1964, the Pollins have watched the NBA become the standard by which all other professional sports leagues are measured, exploding in growth from a small, regional league to a worldwide presence on the business landscape.

In their distinguished career, Abe and Irene Pollin have been at the center of every major issue in the NBA during their time at the helm of the Washington Bullets/Wizards. In 1978, they reached the pinnacle of the NBA as their Bullets, behind the play of Wes Unseld, Elvin Hayes and Bob Dandridge, defeated Seattle and brought a World Championship to Washington.

As the majority owners of Washington Sports & Entertainment Limited Partnership, Abe and Irene Pollin oversee the operations of the Washington Wizards, Washington Mystics, Washington/Baltimore TicketMaster, in-house promoter Musicentre Productions, and the management of MCI Center and the George Mason University Patriot Center.

Thirty-one years ago, the Pollins opened the Capital Centre in Landover, Maryland, the new home for their Baltimore Bullets, and applied for a National Hockey League expansion franchise. The Capital Centre opened on December 2, 1973, and it was what MCI Center is today — a state-of-the-art sports and entertainment facility that became the standard for new arenas throughout the world.

The Capital Centre, aptly named by Irene Pollin, was built in a record 15 months and boasted a host of unique features including electronic ticketing, one-of-a-kind luxury suite accommodations and the never-seen-before Telescreen. It was the premier arena in its time, hosting a wide range of events from sporting events to concerts and even presidential galas.

But as time and the sports and entertainment industry changed, the Pollins realized that their teams were no longer playing in the "best" facility in their respective leagues. In 1964, when the Pollins and two partners purchased the Baltimore Bullets, they had dreams that someday the team would play in a brand-new facility in the Nation's Capital. Now they had another opportunity to make their dreams reality.

After the long years of planning and then building MCI Center, the Pollins watched as their dreams came true on December 2, 1997, when a sellout crowd filled MCI Center to watch the Wizards host the arena's first event. Since that time, over 17 million people have spun the turnstiles at MCI Center to be a part of over 1,385 concerts and sporting events, and the downtown area has sprung to life.

"I had two goals when I decided to build this building," said Abe Pollin. "The first was that if I was building in downtown Washington, the nation's capital, it had to be the best building of its kind in the country. The second was to be the catalyst that turned the city around."

As the Wizards completed their first season at MCI Center, the Pollins' WNBA franchise, the Washington Mystics, were making history of their own. The Mystics made their MCI Center debut on June 19, 1998, against the Utah Starzz in front of 20,674 fans — the largest crowd ever to attend a women's professional basketball game in the United States.

The sports industry is full of astute business professionals, but what distinguishes Abe and Irene Pollin from their peers is their commitment to social responsibility. They share a passionate need to give back to the community and have made helping people a way of life. Their philanthropic and humanitarian endeavors know no bias or boundaries, which is evident by the numerous public service and community organizations to which they selflessly devote enormous time and energy.

CHAIRMEN

Abe Pollin serves as the Chairman of the Advisory Council, is Honorable Chairman of the Salvation Army's Leadership Committee for Centers of Hope and Co-Chair of the Community Capital Campaign for N Street Village in the District. He is also the co-sponsor of the "I Have a Dream Foundation" and personally guaranteed a college education for 55 students.

"I grew up in a house where both my parents were very much involved in helping others," said Pollin. "My philosophy is that those of us who are on the giving end rather than the receiving end are very lucky."

Not surprisingly, recognition of the Pollins' record and accomplishments are just as impressive as the deeds they acknowledge. The last two years have been landmark ones for Pollin, as he has received numerous awards and accolades recognizing his accomplishments in professional sports and contributions to community service.

Recently, Pollin was awarded the Duke Ziebert Capital Achievement Award for his efforts in revitalizing downtown Washington, D.C. He has also been the recipient of the Distinguished Civilian Service Award, presented by the US Army, the 1996 Robert F. Kennedy-Martin Luther King, Jr. Award, presented by Coalition to Stop Gun Violence, the 1996 United Cerebral Palsy Achievement Award and the 1997 Jewish Leadership Award.

As if the years of experience with the Bullets/Wizards, Capital Centre and MCI Center were not challenging enough, Irene Pollin is a noted health care professional with over 28 years of experience in the field. In 1976, she created the first Medical Crisis Counseling Center developed to treat patients and families coping with chronic illness. Since then she has developed Medical Crisis Counseling Centers at Washington Hospital Center as well as additional facilities in surrounding communities.

In addition, Irene Pollin has also forged a dynamic reputation as a psychiatric social worker and lecturer in the department of psychiatry at Harvard University. As president and founder of the Linda and Kenneth Pollin Foundation, she serves on a number of national advisory boards and commissions in the field of mental health and women's health, and is the founder and chairperson of the Sister to Sister - Everyone Has a Heart Foundation, an organization whose aim is to increase women's awareness of heart disease and provide free cardiac screenings

In addition to lecturing in the academic community, Mrs. Pollin has been a guest on national and local broadcast shows including The Today Show, Nightline with Ted Koppel, Good Day New York, National Public Radio and USA Today Sports Radio. She also has published numerous articles and is the author of two books, Medical Crisis Counseling – Short-Term Therapy for Long-Term Illness and Taking Charge — Overcoming the Challenges of Long-Term Illness.

She has served as a board member of numerous organizations such as the American Cancer Society, Smithsonian Institution, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, National Kidney Foundation, the Multiple Sclerosis Society, the Society for Women's Health Research, National Cancer Institute, National Rehabilitation Hospital, the National Institute of Mental Health, the U.S. Committee for the Washington, D.C. United Nations Fund for Women, the National Institutes for Health Foundation and the Office of Women's Health at NIH. Outside of the health field, Mrs. Pollin has served on the board for the National Symphony Orchestra and the Washington Opera. In addition, she has given back to her alma mater, serving on the Board of American University for 11 years, the American University Executive Committee and the Development Committee at AU and was the guiding force behind the development of the new AU Library.

Abe Pollin moved with his family to the Washington area from Philadelphia when he was eight. He graduated from The George Washington University in 1945 and went to work for his family's construction company for 12 years. Irene Pollin, a native of St. Louis, received a Bachelor's Degree from American University, and then earned a Master's Degree in Social Work from Catholic University. In 1957, the Pollins launched their own construction company and, as a local contractor, built several large apartment houses and office buildings, one of which featured the first-ever rooftop pool in Washington.

Most recently, Abe and Irene Pollin together established the Pollin Prize for Pediatric Research, administered annually by New York Presbyterian Hospital. The first Pollin Prize was awarded November 15, 2002 to four international scientists for their work in Oral Rehydration Therapy, hailed as the most important medical discovery of the 20th century.

The Pollins live in Bethesda, Maryland. They are avid travelers and enjoy spending time with their children and grandchildren. Their oldest son, Robert, lives in Amherst, MA with his wife Sigrid, where they are both professors at the University of Massachusetts. Robert, an economics professor, and Sigrid, an architect, have two daughters, Emma and Hannah. The Pollins' younger son, James, owns Leviathan Meeting Innovations in Landover, MD.

PRESIDENT

SUSAN O'MALLEY

If there is any way to personify success through perseverance then Susan O'Malley is a model example. Named President of Washington Sports and Entertainment on May 9, 1991, O'Malley became the first female president of an NBA franchise as well as president of a multi-faceted sports and entertainment company.

A respected leader and motivator, O'Malley has risen through the ranks to the top of Washington Sports and Entertainment. Once an intern with the Bullets and Capitals, O'Malley joined the organization full-time in 1986 as Director of Advertising. Since that time, her ground breaking business ideas and proactive approach to customer service has brought her, and Washington Sports and Entertainment, to the top of the sports business world.

After being named President, O'Malley took an organization ranked last to its counterparts in close to every category, and initiated policies and procedures that have formed positive relationships with ticket holders, corporate sponsors, and the media.

In her first season handling off-court activities, the team experienced the largest ticket revenue increase in the history of an NBA franchise to date. In addition, that year, the club achieved the highest renewal rate of season tickets ever by the franchise, including the year following the 1977-78 Championship season.

As President, O'Malley oversees all business operations for the Washington Wizards and Mystics. In addition, she is responsible for overseeing operations in the Abe Pollin owned MCI Center, Entertainment and New Business Development, Finance, Human Resources/Payroll Services, Marketing, Team Operations, and TicketMaster.

"The city of Washington is extremely fortunate to have a man like Abe Pollin spend over $200 million of his own money to build a world-class sports and entertainment facility in the heart of the city at no expense to the taxpayers," said O'Malley. "It's my job to make sure that MCI Center continues to provide outstanding entertainment for this city as often as possible. Since we opened in 1997, we have been among the 'busiest' arenas in the country, and we will continue to be for years to come."

O'Malley's magic has helped attract over 17 million patrons through the turnstiles of the Washington, D.C.-based facility through October of 2004 to witness professional basketball at its finest as well as spectacular events and concerts. In the six and a half year history of MCI Center, the arena has been host to more then 1,385 concerts and sporting events. In 2002, MCI Center finished the year with the most events in the history of the building with 228.

From a young age, O'Malley always knew her path in life. As a grade school student, she wrote a paper declaring her goal was to run a sports franchise. Her teacher deemed the goal "unrealistic," but O'Malley was not swayed. After graduating in 1983 with a Bachelor of Science degree in business and finance from Mt. St. Mary's College, O'Malley worked for the Earle Palmer Brown Advertising firm for three years before joining the Bullets in 1986. She worked for two seasons in the advertising department before being promoted to Executive Vice President and took control of the business operations of the franchise.

PRESIDENT

A skilled motivator, O'Malley created a spirited, results-oriented work environment that has been emulated in professional sports. While she demands hard work and determination from her staff, she has been rewarded with loyalty — her core management team, assembled by O'Malley when she assumed control of Washington Sports, remains intact 13-years later. Her motivational methods are much sought-after, as she has become an often-requested speaker for civic, academic, and corporate groups.

"I think motivation and drive always comes from within," said O'Malley. "There are people that I greatly admire and respect. [Former chairman of the Washington Post] Katherine Graham was one of my great heroes. People like that inspire me. It's easy to point to someone like Sandra Day O'Connor, who became the Supreme Court's first female member over twenty years ago. People who keep trying to move forward, that's important to me, that's what inspires me."

For two years, O'Malley taught a Sports Business Marketing class at the Georgetown University Business School. Sharing her invaluable experience with the senior students, O'Malley lectured on what she knows best: how to run a successful sports franchise. Along with guest celebrities and seasoned veteran sports marketers, Georgetown students were exposed to a first hand experience in sports business without ever leaving the classroom. In 2002, Georgetown awarded O'Malley with the Adjunct Professor of the Year Award.

O'Malley is a strong advocate of community service, a quality that is emulated by Washington Sports and Entertainment. She works tirelessly in countless fundraising capacities for worthy causes. For her commitment to youth, O'Malley was the recipient of the Americanism Award from the Alexandria-Olympic Boys and Girls Club in 1997.

President of Basketball Operations

ERNIE GRUNFELD

Widely regarded as one of the top executives in the National Basketball Association, Ernie Grunfeld is entering his second season as President of Basketball Operations for the Washington Wizards. Grunfeld's list of accomplishments as one of the league's elite general managers includes two trips to the NBA Finals, four Eastern Conference Finals appearances and 12 playoff berths, including 11 straight from 1991-2001. With 27 years of NBA experience as a player, broadcaster, coach and executive, Grunfeld made an immediate impact in his first season with the Wizards after joining the organization on June 30, 2003.

"He has the courage and ability as well as the knowledge of everything that comes with the game to make it all work," said Memphis Grizzlies Coach Hubie Brown, who was named NBA Coach of the Year in 2004, two decades after he coached Grunfeld with the New York Knicks. "That's why he's a success wherever he goes."

Within the first 13 months of his tenure in Washington, Grunfeld signed free agent guard Gilbert Arenas, the 2002-03 Most Improved Player Award winner, and acquired forward Antawn Jamison, last season's Sixth Man of the Year who arrived in a draft day trade. Additionally, he re-signed one of the league's most sought after free agents in center Etan Thomas this past offseason. The aforementioned players join former first overall pick Kwame Brown, 2003 first round pick Jarvis Hayes and versatile performer Larry Hughes to solidify one of the youngest nucleuses in the NBA.

These significant additions show that Grunfeld has worked tirelessly to build a solid foundation of athletic and exciting talent.

"We have a dedicated group of players and coaches who have worked very hard this offseason with the goal of bringing a consistent winner to this community," said Grunfeld.

In the process of building a contender in the Eastern Conference, Grunfeld's attention to detail resulted in the renovating and upgrading of the team's facilities at MCI Center over the last year. The major overhaul has included the interior and exterior of the team's locker room, player's lounge, coaches' offices and the basketball operations office.

"Everything he has done has been with the focus of making us a playoff contender for years to come," said Wizards Chairman Abe Pollin. "Some moves have shown immediate returns and others are made with an eye towards the future. That's the mark of a good manager."

Prior to joining the Wizards, Grunfeld spent the previous four seasons as General Manager of the Milwaukee Bucks, where the team's 14 playoff wins during his tenure exceeded its cumulative total in the 12 seasons prior to his arrival. During his tenure, the Bucks posted a record of 177-151 (.540) and qualified for the playoffs three times. Included in the Bucks run of playoff success was a trip to the 2001 Eastern Conference Finals, where they pushed Philadelphia to a Game 7.

Grunfeld solidified his reputation as a top talent evaluator with a series of second round picks that helped build the Bucks' roster. Grunfeld's penchant for finding talent in the second round began when he selected Michael Redd with the 43rd overall pick in 2000, and has since watched Redd blossom into an All-Star performer. Grunfeld also tabbed Jason Hart (2000) and Ronald Murray (2002) in the second round of the NBA Draft and staked his claim as a premier draft day executive. In last year's draft with the Wizards, Grunfeld tabbed Peter John Ramos of Puerto Rico in the second round.

During Grunfeld's reign as the Knicks' top personnel executive, New York advanced to the Conference Semifinals of the NBA Playoffs for nine consecutive seasons (1991-99). His tenure included five 50-plus win seasons, three Atlantic Division Championships and two trips to the NBA Finals. In eight seasons of decision making for New York, Grunfeld's Knicks teams compiled a record of 397-227 (.636) in the regular season and a 61-44 mark in the playoffs.

Grunfeld was named General Manager of the New York Knicks on April 23, 1991 and was later promoted to President and General Manager on February 23, 1996. His tenure in New York was punctuated by Eastern Conference Championships in 1994 and '99, the latter of which marked the first time in NBA history that an eighth seed advanced to the Finals. Remarkably, after Patrick Ewing was felled by injury, the '99 Finals squad featured an entirely different starting five than the previous Eastern Conference Champion Knickerbockers just five years earlier.

With Grunfeld's vision, the mid-'90's Knicks completely rebuilt and reloaded to an elite level without missing a beat. Highlighted by trades for Latrell Sprewell and Marcus Camby, as well as the signing of free agent Kurt Thomas, Grunfeld's moves helped catapult the Knicks to the Finals in '99. Three years earlier, Grunfeld acquired both Larry Johnson and Allan Houston on the same day in '96, solidifying his reputation as an astute decision maker. Under Grunfeld's guidance, the Knicks played in front of a sold-out Madison Square Garden from 1993-99.

Originally drafted by Milwaukee with the 11th overall selection in 1977, Grunfeld played in the NBA for nine seasons. After two seasons in Milwaukee, he played for the Kansas City Kings from 1979-82 before signing with the Knicks as a free agent in 1982. Grunfeld retired following the 1985-86 season with a career average of 7.4 points per game in 693 career games played.

Following his playing career, Grunfeld served as the Knicks radio analyst for the MSG Network from 1986-89. Prior to the 1989-90 season, he served as an assistant coach for the Knicks under Stu Jackson before his promotion to the front office.

Born in Romania, Grunfeld came to New York City in 1964 with his father, Alex and mother, Livia. He enjoyed a stellar collegiate career at the University of Tennessee, where he left as the school's all-time leading scorer with 2,249 points. He teamed with Bernard King at Tennessee to form the "Ernie and Bernie Show" and later played with King in New York. Grunfeld was a member of the 1976 Olympic Team that won gold in Montreal.

Upon his arrival in Washington DC, Grunfeld was quick to establish himself as an active member of the community in the nation's capital. His participation in the organization's community outreach programs, including Thanksgiving luncheons, Holiday gift deliveries, and charitable bowling tournaments helped set an example of excellence for the Wizards and the community.

Grunfeld and his wife, Nancy, have two children, Rebecca, who is in her first year at Georgetown Law School, and Danny, a junior on the men's basketball team at Stanford University.

BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

MILT NEWTON
Director, Player Personnel

Milt Newton begins his second season with the Washington Wizards organization as the director of player personnel.

Most recently, Newton was the director of player personnel for the National Basketball Development League from 2000-2003. In this position, Newton was responsible for evaluating, recruiting and signing players and assisting the executive director on the league's day-to-day basketball operations.

Prior to joining the NBDL, Newton spent two years as a scout with Philadelphia 76ers where he was responsible for collegiate and advanced scouting, and assisted in evaluating and selecting draft picks.

Newton also served as the assistant director for the USA Men's Basketball program from 1995-99. He coordinated the USA Men's Basketball National Team trials, training camps, exhibition games and team competitions, and served as a liaison for USA Men's Basketball teams at international competitions.

Newton was a member of the 1988 University of Kansas National Championship team, and was named to the NCAA Midwest Regional and Final Four All-Tournament teams.

He went on to play in the Continental Basketball Association for the Rockford Lightning and Grand Rapids Hoops.

Newton received his Master of Science in Sports Administration from the University of Kansas in 1992 and his Bachelor of Science in Education from the University of Kansas in 1989. Born in St. Thomas, Virgin Islands and raised in Washington, D.C. Newton and his wife, Shalaun, have a daughter Shaniya.

TOMMY SHEPPARD
Director, Basketball Administration

Tommy Sheppard begins his second season as the Wizards' Director of Basketball Administration. In this role, he assists with the day to day operations of the basketball department.

Previously a member of the Denver Nuggets organization since 1994, Sheppard most recently served as Senior Director of Team Services and Player Relations. With Denver he oversaw all internal and external communications functions, including serving as the club's primary spokesperson.

While with the Nuggets, he also oversaw player programs and assisted with draft preparation by evaluating talent at the Portsmouth and Chicago pre-draft camps, high school tournaments throughout the nation and international competitions.

Sheppard is also active within the Olympic Movement, having worked as a press attaché for the last two Summer Olympic Games, as well as three Olympic Festivals and the 2003 Pan American Games. In addition, he spent this past summer as a member of the official delegation for the 2004 Games in Athens.

Sheppard joined the NBA after heading the sports information office at UNLV for two seasons.

A 1991 graduate of New Mexico State University, Sheppard was a three-year member of the Aggie football team before getting his start in media relations as a student assistant.

Sheppard and his wife, Rosie, are the parents of three daughters: Baily (8), Rebekah (6) and Abby (1) and one son, Tommy Jr. (4).

CHUCK DOUGLAS
Director of Scouting

Chuck Douglas is beginning his 20th season with the Wizards organization, and fifth season as Director of Scouting.

He is the team's top evaluator of talent, both at collegiate and professional levels, which includes the NBA, developmental league, universities and high schools. He also handles international scouting.

In addition to his evaluation responsibilities he also oversees extending summer league and mini-camp invitations as well as coordinating scheduling assignments for the regional scouts.

Douglas holds a B.S. degree in Sports Administration from the University of Maryland and resides in downtown Washington.

TIM CONNELLY
Assistant Director of Player Personnel

Tim Connelly begins his first season as the Assistant Director of Player Personnel and his fifth season in the Wizards front office.

Prior to this promotion, Connelly was a scout for the Wizards, responsible for identifying collegiate talent in the United States as well as scouting international leagues in Europe. The Baltimore native began working for the Wizards as an intern in the basketball operations department in 1996. After graduating from Catholic University in 1999, Connelly was named to the Wizards scouting staff as Assistant Video Coordinator, then became a full-time scout for the Wizards in 2000.

Connelly comes from a family very involved in the game of basketball. His brother Joe coached prep and AAU basketball in Baltimore for several years while his brother Pat is a graduate assistant to the basketball team at Baylor University and Daniel is a team manager at Florida State University.

COACH

EDDIE JORDAN
Head Coach

The 2004-05 season marks Eddie Jordan second as head coach of the Washington Wizards. In his first season with Washington, Jordan compiled a 25-57 record and has a career head coaching record of 58-121.

Jordan was introduced as head coach of the Washington Wizards on June 19, 2003. From 1999-2003, the Washington, D.C. native was the lead assistant coach of the New Jersey Nets, who he helped guide to consecutive Atlantic Division and Eastern Conference Championships in 2002 and 2003.

Jordan joined the Nets coaching staff on March 17, 1999. Prior to his arrival in New Jersey, Jordan spent the 1997-98 campaign and the final 15 games of the 1996-97 season as head coach of the Sacramento Kings, compiling a 33-64 record. He was an assistant coach with the Kings for five seasons before being named head coach on March 20, 1997.

After retiring from the NBA in 1984, Jordan was a volunteer assistant at Rutgers University under his former college head coach, Tom Young. Jordan followed Young to Old Dominion as a part-time assistant before landing an assistant coaching position at Boston College under Jim O'Brien in 1986, and at his alma mater, Rutgers, in 1988. In June of 1992, Jordan became a member of the Kings' coaching staff.

Originally selected by the Cleveland Cavaliers in the second round of the 1977 NBA Draft (33rd overall), Jordan was acquired by New Jersey midway through his rookie year. As a New Jersey Net, Jordan led the league in total steals in 1978-79 and was second in total steals in 1979-80.

Jordan joined the Los Angeles Lakers during the 1980-81 campaign, where he subsequently played four seasons, and was a member of the 1982 NBA World Championship squad. He also played briefly with the Portland Trail Blazers before ending his professional career following the 1983-84 season. In his seven-year career, Jordan averaged 8.1 points, 3.8 assists and 1.82 steals per game.

During his junior campaign at Rutgers, Jordan led the Scarlet Knights to the 1976 NCAA Final Four, where he was named East Regional MVP. In his senior year, he was named honorable mention All-America, while setting Rutgers all-time career records in assists (585) and steals (220). Jordan graduated from Rutgers in 1977 with a degree in health and physical education.

Jordan was raised in Washington, D.C. and is a 1973 graduate of Archbishop Carroll High School where he enjoyed a standout basketball career.

Eddie and his wife, Charrisse, have two children, a son, Jackson, and daughter, Skylar. Eddie also has three sons, Justin, who attends New York School of the Arts; Eddie Jr., who followed in his father's footsteps at Rutgers University, where he plays football; and Paul, who resides in D.C.

Assistant Coaches

MIKE O'KOREN
Assistant Coach

Mike O'Koren begins his second season as the lead assistant coach with the Wizards. O'Koren joined the Wizards staff after serving as an assistant coach with the New Jersey Nets from 1999-2003 where he helped guide the Nets to back-to-back Atlantic Division and Eastern Conference Championships in 2002 and 2003.

After a standout college career at North Carolina where he was a three-time All-American and a four-year starter, O'Koren was drafted by the Nets with the sixth overall selection in the 1980 NBA Draft. He averaged 8.5 points in his seven NBA seasons with the Nets and enjoyed his best season during the 1981-82 campaign when he averaged a career-high 11.4 points per game.

An avid participant in community activities, O'Koren and his wife, Angela, have a daughter, Chelsea.

PHIL HUBBARD
Assistant Coach

Phil Hubbard is entering his season as an assistant in Washington. Hubbard previously worked as an assistant in Golden State and with the Atlanta Hawks, where he helped coach Lenny Wilkens become the winningest coach in NBA history.

Hubbard played in the NBA for 10 seasons with the Detroit Pistons and Cleveland Cavaliers and averaged 10.9 points per game during his career. Hubbard averaged a career-high 15.8 points per game with Cleveland during the 1984-85 season.

Hubbard enjoyed a standout career at the University of Michigan, where he led the Wolverines run to the 1976 NCAA Championship Game, and remains only one of three Michigan players to have their number retired. He was also a member of the United States 1976 Olympic Basketball team that won the gold medal in Montreal.

Hubbard graduated from the University of Michigan with a degree in education. He and his wife Jackie are the parents of two children, Whitney and Maurice.

TOM YOUNG
Assistant Coach

The 2004-05 season marks Tom Young's second in the NBA after a distinguished collegiate coaching career. Young coached Wizards Head Coach Eddie Jordan at Rutgers, as the two reunited in Washington 27 years after guiding Rutgers to the 1976 Final Four.

Young's coaching career began when he was named the head coach at Catholic University in Washington, D.C. in 1958 at just 24 years of age. He spent nine seasons at Catholic before going to the University of Maryland for two seasons as an assistant coach. From there he went to American University where he coached the Eagles for four seasons.

Young coached at Rutgers for 12 seasons and reached his only Final Four on a team led by Jordan in 1976. He also coached for six seasons at Old Dominion before leaving the school in 1991.

Young is a 1958 graduate of the University of Maryland, where he co-captained the Terrapins during his senior season.

MINORITY OWNERS

LINCOLN HOLDINGS

Ted Leonsis

In the spring of 1999 Lincoln Holdings LLC purchased 100% of the Washington Capitals (held in the name of Lincoln Hockey LLC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Lincoln Holdings) and, together with a subsequent purchase, approximately 44% of Washington Sports and Entertainment Limited Partnership (WSELP). WSELP owns 100% of the NBA Washington Wizards, the WNBA Washington Mystics, the MCI Center and the Baltimore-Washington Ticketmaster franchise. Lincoln Holdings plans to eventually own the majority interest in WSELP and all of its assets and has a right of first refusal on the sale of any of the individual teams or other assets, as well as an option to purchase Abe Pollin's majority interest in WSELP.

During the four years of Lincoln Holdings' existence, there have been several changes in the entity's ownership. The original owners were Ted Leonsis, who was and remains the majority owner with more than 50% of the ownership, Dick Patrick and John Ledecky, with Raul Fernandez and NBA legend Michael Jordan joining the group within the first six months. In the summer of 2001 Leonsis purchased Ledecky's interest, and during the next six months sold it to four new owners: Jack Davies, Rick Kay, Jeong Kim and Richard Fairbank. Lincoln Holdings also reacquired Michael Jordan's interest in order to allow him to return to the NBA as a player.

All of the current partners of Lincoln Holdings are extremely active in the Washington-area business community.

Jack Davies serves on the Board of Directors of several organizations, including Scholastic, the global children's publishing and media company, and Tickets.com, a leading live event ticketing solutions provider, and serves as a special advisor to General Atlantic Partners, one of the leading global private equity investment firms. He is also a board member of many organizations that help underprivileged young people in the Greater Washington, D.C., area.

Richard Fairbank is founder, chairman and chief executive officer of Capital One Financial Corporation, which he co-founded in 1988. Under Fairbank's leadership, the company has expanded internationally and ranked No. 260 in the Fortune 500 list of America's largest companies in 2002 after debuting on the list in 2000. Fairbank has previously worked as a partner at Strategic Planning Associates (now Mercer Management Consulting) and has also served as a consultant at Strategic Planning Associates, later joining Richmond-based Signet Bank and building what is now Capital One.

Raul Fernandez brings with him experience as a special advisor to General Atlantic Partners, a multi-billion-dollar private equity investment firm focused exclusively on information technology, process outsourcing and communications investment on a global basis. Fernandez is also credited with founding Proxicom Inc. in 1991 and turning it into a leading global provider of sophisticated e-Business solutions for Fortune 500 companies. Among his previous involvements, Fernandez also served as a legislative assistant to former Rep. Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., from 1984 to 1988.

Richard Kay is the chairman and CEO of OTG Software, a leading data storage and data access software company he founded with his own funds in 1992. In the Washington, D.C., area, OTG was recently named to Arthur Andersen's FastTrack Award, recognizing revenue growth, and was ranked as the 25th-fastest growing company in Maryland by Deloitte & Touche's "Fast 50."

Jeong H. Kim, Ph.D., currently serves as a professor in the Clark School of Engineering at the University of Maryland and as chairman of Cibernet Corporation. His background ranges from being a CEO of a high technology start-up to senior executive of a Fortune 50 corporation. Kim's early career encompassed computer design, satellite systems design and data communications and included seven years as a nuclear submarine officer in the U.S. Navy.

George Stamas is a senior partner of the international law firm of Kirkland & Ellis and is the former vice chairman of the Board of Deutsche Banc Alex. Brown Inc. He is also a founding director of two leading public companies based in the mid-Atlantic region — Aether Systems, a leading wireless solutions company, and FTI Consulting, a business services firm. A 1973 graduate of The Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, Stamas graduated in 1976 from the University of Maryland Law School.

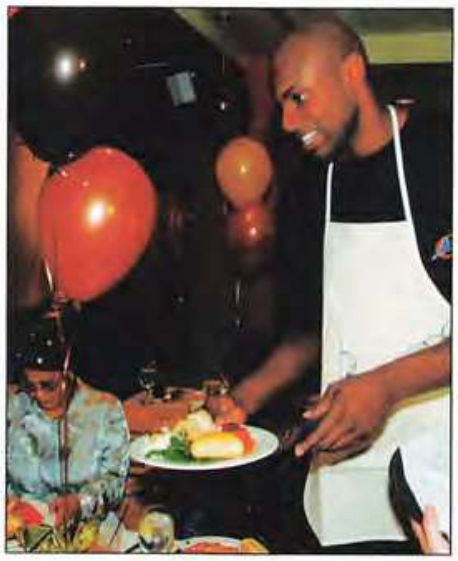
WIZARDS IN THE COMMUNITY

CANNED FOOD DRIVE, NOVEMBER 14

The Wizards host an annual canned food drive at a home Wizards game in November. Fans are encouraged to donate non-perishable food items in exchange for a ticket to a future Wizards game. All donations benefit Bread for the City, a private, non-profit organization that provides vulnerable residents of Washington, D.C. with comprehensive services including food, clothing, medical care, legal and social services in an atmosphere of dignity, respect and peace.



WIZARDS TURKEY BASKET EVENT NOVEMBER 18

The Wizards team up with Calvary Food Bank to host an annual turkey basket giveaway each November. Four hundred baskets are filled with turkeys and items to compliment a Thanksgiving Day Meal, such as, canned vegetables, bread, stuffing and desserts. Baskets are handed out to D.C. families in need.

HOLIDAY FOSTER CARE PARTY DECEMBER 5

The Wizards host an annual Holiday Party each December for Washington, D.C. children in foster care. Children from around the District are treated to a carnival-like atmosphere complete with food, games and fun, including Wizards players' autographs, interactive games, photo button booth and more.

WIZARDS IN THE COMMUNITY

FAMILY TO FAMILY DELIVERIES DECEMBER 9

A December ritual, Washington Sports and Entertainment's owner, Abe Pollin, and the Wizards players and coaches board a charter bus filled with toys, books, clothes, games and gift certificate and head to designated families in the District who need help with the holidays. The Wizards work with the Friendship House and Bread for the City to coordinate the 10 families receiving donations.

TOYS FOR TOTS, DECEMBER 15

Each December, the Wizards team up with the U.S. Marine Corps to host a Toys for Tots drive at MCI Center during a home game. Fans who donate a new, unwrapped toy the night of the game receive a coupon to a future Wizards game. All toys are dispersed through the U.S. Marine Corp to underprivileged children in the Washington-Metropolitan area.

WARM COATS DRIVE, JANUARY 8

Every winter, the Wizards host a warm coat drive at a Wizards home game at MCI Center. Fans are encouraged to donate new or gently used coats. Each fan who donates an item receives a coupon for a future Wizards game. Coats are given to Washington-Metropolitan area shelters and groups homes through Salvation Army.

POLLIN AWARD

The Wizard team up with D.C. Lottery to honor the D.C. area's top volunteers with the Pollin Award. Local schools, community organizations and companies have the opportunity to nominate their top volunteers who show exceptional dedication to their community. Winners are chosen based on their volunteer activities and how they impact their community. Winners receive 4 lower level tickets to a designated Wizards game and are presented the Pollin Award at half-time of the game.

WIZARDS AND THE G.R.E.A.T

The Wizards and the G.R.E.A.T (Gangs Resistance Education and Training) program team up with D.C., Montgomery County, Fairfax County and Takoma Park Police to encourage positive relationships with youth and police officers and promote conflict resolution. Area police officers are provided with Wizards player cards containing an action shot and information about a Wizards player, along with a conflict resolution tip on the back of the card. Each time a child introduces himself or herself to an officer, the child will receive a player card. After collecting all six player cards and the mascot card, the child completes the back of the mascot card and returns that card to their local precinct. Each child who completes turns in a mascot card receives a Wizards prize!

OUR HOUSE RULES

The Wizards promote non-violence to area youth! Each season a new tagline is created and delivered to D.C. area elementary, middle, junior high and high schools, as well as, community organizations. Groups are asked to create a video PSA promoting the Wizards Our House, Our Rules tagline. Winners are chosen based on creativity, originality and the impact of their message/PSA. Each winner receives a block of tickets to a weekend Wizards home game and their PSA is posted on the Wizards website, as well as, presented during their designated Wizards game.

NBA Community Outreach

The dedication of the NBA its teams and players to the improvement of local communities has a long history and tremendous reach. The League's implementation and execution of outreach based programs has impacted and inspired children and families to develop a life-long love of reading. The entire NBA family has placed reading and children's education at the forefront of its community work by donating millions of dollars, extensive resources and countless volunteer hours to the promotion and sponsorship of literacy initiatives.

With the Read to Achieve program, the NBA helps to positively impact the reading tendencies of millions of kids on a year-round basis. NBA teams, current and former players and coaches partner with schools and community centers to deliver the Read to Achieve message and to provide critical resources and support to local reading and education programs.

To connect with so many people and communities, Read to Achieve partners with the nation's longest-serving literacy organization, Reading Is Fundamental (RIF) and with the world's largest children's book publisher, Scholastic Inc. Together, over 300,000 books are donated annually through school assemblies, book fairs and at various reading events. In addition, a partnership with Dell provides a necessary focus on technology literacy and has resulted in the creation of more than 60 NBA Reading & Learning Centers. Places where children have access to books, technology and supportive reading programs in an encouraging and motivating environment.

As the world's greatest athletes, NBA players are also dedicated to the community and committed to giving back in extraordinary ways. Through their foundations, camp efforts and charitable work, they make a difference for hundreds of non-profit and youth serving organizations. To honor players' outstanding community service accomplishments off the court each month, the NBA recently enhanced its Community Assist Award by announcing that all future winners would receive the David Robinson Plaque. The new award was first presented to the San Antonio Spurs legendary center last season to honor him for the standards he has set in supporting the community. The NBA and WNBA also present an annual Sportsmanship Award to one player at the conclusion of their respective seasons.

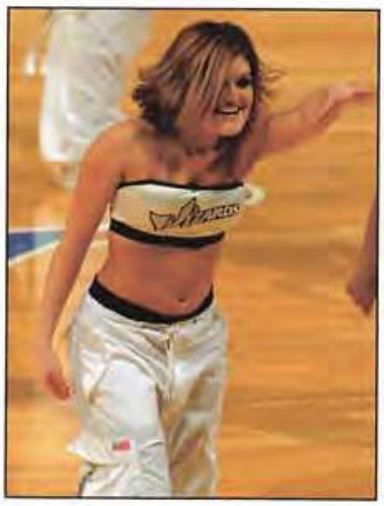
In addition to youth education, the NBA also supports numerous causes and organizations that positively impact communities including but not limited to The Thurgood Marshall Scholarship Fund, UNICEF, The National Wheelchair Basketball Association, The National Civil Rights Museum, Gallaudet University, and The National Underground Railroad Freedom Center.

ENTERTAINMENT

G-WIZ

G-Wiz enters his fifth season in the NBA as the Washington Wizards mascot. Interacting with the crowd G-Wiz creates fun and excitement throughout the game. This blue and fuzzy cute creature with a long cape and floppy cap is also known as the G-Man. Dazzling fans with his high-flying dunks G-Wiz is guaranteed to bring a smile to your face and send chills down your spine! During his free time, you can spot G-Wiz entertaining at birthday parties and other social events. G-Wiz also appears in many of the Community Relations events sponsored by the Washington Wizards. If you are interested in having G-Wiz perform at one of your functions, please call 202-661-5000.

WIZARDS DANCE TEAM



The Washington Wizards Dancers are a group of beautiful, personable and artistically talented young ladies. The team supports the Wizards at each home basketball game at MCI Center, featuring a wide variety of dance routines and choreography. The Wizards Dance Team participation is vital in helping to pump up the crowd and to show the true spirit of the Washington Wizards. Members of the Dance team spend their free time performing at charity fundraising events and galas, assisting in holiday activities and visiting with the D.C.metropolitan community.

Mystics

Luckily, basketball fans in the Washington-Metropolitan area do not have to experience the off-season void that most sports enthusiasts must face. For sports fans, the off-season is the worst time of the year. It is those seemingly endless months in between a team's final game of the season and the very moment the players step onto the court, field, ice, etc. to begin preseason. The time spent away from the arenas, parks or fields that fans come to love can be an excruciating wait for many. It is a time of loss when some fans find themselves missing their daily dosages of stats, television highlights or newspaper articles.

For the past six years, fans of professional sports in Washington, D.C. have been treated to year-round basketball with the presence of the Washington Mystics, one of 13 teams in the Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA).

The Mystics have attracted more than a million fans to its games since the Inaugural 1998 Season and it is no wonder why. Basketball fans are treated to a unique experience at Mystics games. First and foremost, Mystics games feature some of the most celebrated athletes in women's professional sports. During games, Mystics forward and Five-Time WNBA All-Star Chamique Holdsclaw leads her team against a league full of incredible basketball players. In the seven years that the WNBA has existed, the talent has grown and the teams' rosters feature more depth and competitiveness.

Of no less importance, is the atmosphere that Mystics games provide. Fans attending Mystics games are given a complete entertainment experience. Besides basketball, the excitement also includes halftime shows, timeout contests and special game-by-game promotions. The Mystics games are also affordable. Tickets are less than the price of a movie, starting at just $8 per ticket. All games are played at the state-of-the-art MCI Center located in the heart of Chinatown, just blocks from the revitalized section of downtown Washington. Fans wishing to purchase tickets to a Mystics game can do so by calling the Mystics sales office at (202) 661-5050.

The Mystics season begins in late spring and runs through the summer into early fall. It is the perfect opportunity for fans to enjoy summer fun with their family or friends and an even better way to avoid the "off-season blues" by area basketball fans.

TEAM NOTES

OPENING WITH A WIN: The Wizards opened up the 2003-2004 season with a 99-74 win against the Chicago Bulls. This marked the first time since the 1999-2000 season, when they beat the Atlanta Hawks 94-87, that Washington opened the season with a win. In the game, the Wizards had six players score in double-figures as Larry Hughes led the team with a game-high 20 points while Gilbert Arenas followed with 18. Etan Thomas and rookie Jarvis Hayes each contributed 13 while Juan Dixon added 11 and Christian Laettner contributed 10. The last time the Wizards has six or more players in double figures was March 23, 2003 at Golden State with seven players in double digits.

QUARTER OF A CENTURY: The 25-point opening night win against Chicago was the largest opening night victory in franchise history, overtaking the Baltimore Bullets 23-point victory over the New York Knicks (121-98) to open the 1967-68 season. The 25-point win was also the largest margin of victory since October 31, 2002 when the Wizards beat the Boston Celtics by 45 points, 114-69. The Wizards scored 30 fourth quarter points, which was the first time Washington scored 30 or more points in a quarter since scoring 37 in the second quarter of the March 23, 2003 game at Golden State.

YOUNG GUNS: The Wizards started the youngest lineup in the league this year against the Bulls by starting five players whose average age was 22.2 years old. The Cleveland Cavaliers started the second youngest lineup with the average age being 22.6 years old.

RECORD LOWS IN DC: The Wizards set three opponent low records in the game versus the Toronto Raptors. The Wizards defense held Toronto to a franchise record low 23 points in the first half. The previous low was set back on November 30, 2001 when the Wizards held the Miami Heat to just 26 second-half points. The defense also helped in setting a franchise record low for points in a quarter by holding the Raptors to just four in the second quarter. The previous franchise low was recorded on November 11, 2000 when the Wizards held the Cleveland Cavaliers to just six points in the third quarter. The four points also tied the Cavaliers for the second fewest points scored in the second quarter in NBA history when they put up four against Boston on November 28, 2000. The Wizards capped off the night by setting a franchise record for opponent points in a game by holding Toronto to just 60 total points. The previous record was set on November 16, 2002 when the Wizards held the Heat to 65 points.

RAINING THREES: The Wizards set a franchise record for three-point field goals made (13) and tied a franchise record for three-point field goals attempted (30) against Dallas. The Wizards broke a nine-year-old record set back on November 12, 1994 when they made 12 three-pointers at Miami. Helping to break the record were Gilbert Arenas (3-11), Larry Hughes (5-6) and Jarvis Hayes (3-5). Kwame Brown also contributed by hitting his first ever three-point field goal with .4 seconds left in the first half.

ROAD WHITES (AND BLACKS): For the first, and only, time this past season the Wizards wore their home white uniforms on the road against Orlando on January 9th. Normally in their road blue uni's, the Wizards were asked to wear the whites to accommodate the Magic's retro theme night in which they wore their black with blue pinstripe uniforms from their inaugural season. Also, instead of wearing the usual white shoes that correspond with the home white uni's, the Wizards wore their black road shoes. The Wizards adopted the road blacks in the preseason when the team voted to make the change from the traditional white. The look was debuted against the Knicks at Madison Square Garden on December 14.

ROOKIE CHALLENGE: Wizards rookie forward Jarvis Hayes was picked to play in the 2004 got milk? Rookie Challenge on Friday, February 13, 2004 in Los Angeles, California. The game, which kicked off the 2004 NBA All-Star Weekend, matched the leagues top rookies with the leagues top sophomores. Chosen with the 10th overall pick by Washington in the 2003 NBA Draft, Hayes finished the 2003-04 season ranked fifth on the team in scoring (9.6 ppg), fifth in minutes (29.2 mpg) and eighth in rebounds (3.8 rpg). Among other rookies, Hayes finished the season ranked sixth in points, 13th in rebounds, sixth in minutes played and ninth in steals (1.01 spg).

YOU CAN'T GUARD HIM: Wizards rookie guard Steve Blake, just one night off his career-high 17 points against Boston, scored a new season and career-high 18 points against Indiana (01/24). Blake came off the bench against the Pacers to hit 2-6 from the field and 12-13 from the free throw line in helping lead the Wizards bench to a 44-39 advantage over Indiana's bench.

20-PLUS CLUB: Hosting the Los Angeles Clippers on February 6th, the Wizards did something that hadn't been done by a Washington team in nearly four years by having four players score 20 or more points. Gilbert Arenas (25), Jerry Stackhouse (23), Kwame Brown (22) and Larry Hughes all accomplished the feat that was last done by a Washington squad on March 29, 2001. In that game, the Wizards defeated the Golden State Warriors 116-100 behind the 20-plus point efforts of Richard Hamilton (41), Courtney Alexander (24), Jahidi White (21) and David Vanterpool (21). Christian Laettner and Michael Smith were the only other Wizards to score in that game with five and four points respectively.

STARTING FIVE: Against the Clippers on February 6th, all five Wizards starters scored in double figures. This feat hadn't happened since March 11, 2003 when the Wizards defeated the Orlando Magic at home 106-105. Gilbert Arenas led the charge with 25 points while Jerry Stackhouse scored 23, Kwame Brown scored 22 and Larry Hughes scored 21. Brendan Haywood chipped in with 11 as the Wizards beat the Los Angeles 112-100.

BROWN'S BEST MONTH: Kwame Brown had his best month as a professional in January. The 6-11 forward averaged 13.7 points per game while pulling down 8.7 rebounds, dishing 1.4 assists and averaging a block per game. He shot 52 percent from the field and 76 percent from the free throw line. Brown notched six of his eight double-doubles in the month of January. Brown set many season and career-high's in the first month of the New Year including: scoring a career-high 25 points and tying a season-high three blocks versus the Indiana Pacers on January 24; grabbing a season-high 15 rebounds versus Orlando on January 28; dishing out five assists versus Portland on January 26.

PUTTING IN THE TIME: In the 111-105 Wizards victory over the New Orleans Hornets on March 1st, guard Gilbert Arenas played a team and season-high 53 minutes. The franchise record for minutes played is 59 which was set on November 15, 1975 by former Bullet and current Wizards color analyst Phil Chenier. On the season, Houston Rockets guard Cuttino Mobley holds the league-high for game minutes played with 59 played in Houston's triple-overtime loss to the Atlanta Hawks. Last season, Michael Jordan logged 52 minutes in a 107-104 overtime win.

30, BACK-TO-BACK: Wizards guard Gilbert Arenas notched back-to-back 30-point games with his 35-point outing versus the Los Angeles Lakers on February 28 followed by his 35-point accomplishment against the New Orleans Hornets on March 1st. The last Wizards player to score back-to-back 30-point games was Michael Jordan, who scored 43 points versus New Jersey on 2/21/03 and then followed it up with a 30-point performance against the Dallas Mavericks on 2/23/03.

HOT FROM DOWNTOWN: Wizards guard Gilbert Arenas set a new career-high with eight three-point field goals against the Los Angeles Lakers on February 28th. The eight three-pointers also tied a franchise record for three-point field goals in a game set by Rex Chapman on November 12, 1994 versus the Miami Heat.

GIL'S TRIPLE THREAT: After playing 129 games without notching a triple-double, Wizards guard Gilbert Arenas notched the third of his career against the Hawks when he scored 13 points, grabbed 10 rebounds and dished out 10 assists. The previous two triple-doubles came against Dallas on November 5th when Arenas finished with 25 points, 12 rebounds and 10 assists. He followed that up on February 26th against the Bulls with 21 points, 12 rebounds and 10 assists. With the third, Arenas now ranked second in triple-doubles during the regular season behind Jason Kidd who finished with nine.

TEAM NOTES

BROWN'S CAREER NIGHT: Kwame Brown had a career night against the Sacramento Kings on March 17th by scoring a career-high 30 points and grabbing a career-high 19 rebounds. Brown shot 12-16 from the field, going 7-7 in the first quarter, scoring 16 points, and grabbing five rebounds, and 3-3 in the fourth quarter, scoring eight points, while pulling down five boards. Brown's previous highs were 25 points scored against Indiana on January 24, 2004, and 18 rebounds set at Toronto on October 30, 2002.

CRAZY EIGHTS: In the game versus Atlanta, the Wizards and the Hawks combined had eight players score 20 or more points. The last time this was accomplished was April 16, 1997 when the Philadelphia 76ers beat the New Jersey Nets 113-105. Former Sixer and Wizard Jerry Stackhouse played in both of those games, scoring 34 points as a Sixer in the win over New Jersey, and 29 as a Wizard.

BOOGING TO A NEW HIGH: Wizards guard Larry Hughes set a new career-high by pulling down 13 rebounds versus New Jersey. His previous high, 12, was set on February 6, 2004 against the Los Angeles Clippers. Also setting a new high was Mitchell Butler who set a season-high in rebounds with seven. His previous high, six, was set March 16 at New York.

ARENAS' MARCH MADNESS: Gilbert Arenas had one of his best months as a professional in March as he averaged 24.2 points, 4.3 rebounds and 5.9 assists. He played in 17 of the Wizards 18 games in the month, and shot 41 percent from the floor and 80 percent from the free throw line, while averaging 42 minutes a contest. He notched his third triple-double of his career with 13 points 10 rebounds and 10 assists against Atlanta in a 94-84 victory, and set a new season-high with 40 points in a 108-99 lost at Orlando.

BLAKE GOES PERFECT: Wizards rookie guard Steve Blake came off the bench against the Los Angeles Clippers to shoot a perfect 6-6 from the field en route to 17 points. Blake shot 3-3 from beyond the three-point arch, while going 2-2 from the charity stripe.

DOT COM HONORS: WashingtonWizards.com, the official web site of the Washington Wizards, was recently ranked as one of the top 10 websites in the NBA by a study conducted by University of Massachusetts and the Street & Smith's Sports Business Journal. The Study, which was held during a 10-week period between September 22 and November 30, evaluated a total of 131 team sites from the NBA, NFL, NHL, MLB and MLS. The team sites' scores were totaled form question presented in four categories: content, design, commerce and fan interactivity. Twelve students from the Graduate Sports Communication class at the University of Massachusetts graded the sites. WashingtonWizards.com ranked ninth overall among the 29 NBA team sites, and was ranked sixth in content, fifth in design, seventh in commerce and 22nd in fan interactivity among NBA team sites. Overall, point totals showed the Wizards' site to be the eight-best designed team site among the five major professional sports leagues, and was ranked 69th overall in the study.

4-POINTER FOR ARENAS: Gilbert Arenas became just the ninth player in Washington franchise history to successfully convert a four-point play. The uncommon play happened with 1:25 left in the game when Boston's Marcus Banks fouled Arenas as he hit a 26-foot, three-point field goal. Arenas then successfully converted the free throw that was awarded to him to give him the four-point play. The last Washington player to accomplish the feat was Rod Strickland, who did it on February 21, 1998 in a game versus the Chicago Bulls.

HAYES NAMED ALL-ROOKIE: Wizards rookie forward Jarvis Hayes was named to the got milk? All Rookie Second Team. Hayes averaged 9.6 points, 3.8 rebounds and 1.5 assists in 29.2 minutes per game. The 10th selection in the 2003 NBA Draft, Hayes joins Josh Howard (Dallas Mavericks), T.J. Ford (Milwaukee, Bucks), Udonis Haslem (Miami Heat) and Marquis Daniels (Dallas Mavericks) on the second team.

Miscellaneous Community Notes

STRIKE IS A SUCCESS: The Washington Wizards raised over $75,000 for Washington Sports and Entertainment Charities in their third annual Strike! bowling fundraiser. The tournament that pitted fans with Wizards players and other celebrities was a close one, but in the end team "The Substitutes" led by Wizards forward Mitchell Butler, Assistant Coach Phil Hubbard and actor Michael Beach (Third Watch, Soul Food, Waiting to Exhale) took the honor of Strike III! Champions. The Washington Post team garnered second place honors, led by Jarvis Hayes and Essence Atkins (Half & Half, Deliver us From Eva) at the helm, while Steve Blake and R&B singer Marc Dorsey guided their squad to a third place finish. Wizards owners Abe and Irene Pollin created Washington Sports and Entertainment Charities to conduct charitable activities and support other charitable organizations by relieving distressed and underprivileged youth of the Washington DC metropolitan area. Some of these programs include Sister-to-Sister, Food for Kids and the WSE Education Fund.

PICK & ROLL READING CHALLENGE A SUCCESS: The Washington Wizards sponsored a pizza party for 64 sixth graders at Laurel Elementary School in Prince George's County as a prize for logging the most reading minutes during the Wizards/Mystics 10-week Pick and Roll reading challenge. Laurel students logged an average of 2888.87 reading minutes, a total of 360,951 reading minutes, during the challenge. Wizards Jared Jeffries and Juan Dixon delivered the Papa Johns pizzas and congratulated the kids on completing and winning the challenge. They spoke on the importance reading plays in their lives and what some of their favorite books are. In the program's 10th season, over 200 area classrooms participated in the reading challenge. All students who completed the required reading minutes of 1,000 or more received a pair of tickets to a Wizards game and a host of Wizards and Mystics gifts. The overall winner, Joey Dykes, received a basketball autographed by the entire Washington team for his 10,550 reading minutes.

TICKET DONATION: Washington Sports and Entertainment and Chairmen Abe and Irene Pollin are proud to announce the donation of over $1 Million worth of tickets to area charitable organizations throughout the 2003-04 Wizards season. Some of the organizations that benefited from WSE generosity were: DC Foster Care, Area Boys and Girls and YMCA Clubs, Inner City Suburban Youth Foundation, DC Parks and Recreation, So Others Might Eat (S.O.M.E), Area School and Youth organizations and area Urban Leagues.

Wizards Retired Numbers

41 WES UNSELD

As a player, Wes Unseld seemed to have been chiseled from a block of granite, with a stoic demeanor and an iron resolve to win. A 6-7 bull of a center, he forged his reputation on relentless rebounding, bone-jarring picks, and laser-beam outlet passes. He did all the unspectacular things that led to glamorous victories. He was the league's MVP and Rookie of the Year in 1968-69 and a five-time NBA All-Star who captained the Baltimore and Washington Bullets to four NBA Finals appearances in the 1970s and to a championship in 1977-78. Unseld was intelligent on and off the court, and over the course of his career he came to personify the virtues of hard work, dedication, and courage. After retiring in 1980 he moved into a front office position with the Bullets, then coached the team for seven seasons in the late 1980s and early 1990s before becoming the team's General Manager before taking a leave of absence in May 2003. During his 13-year NBA career, all with the Bullets, Unseld piled up many accomplishments. He ranked seventh on the league's all-time rebounding list and was one of a handful of players to have tallied at least 10,000 points and 10,000 rebounds for a career. He played 984 games for the Bullets, the most of any player in franchise history. His total of 13,769 boards (14.0 rpg) currently tops the franchise career list, and his 3,822 assists also is a Bullets record. After a standout career at Louisville, Unseld was the second overall selection in the 1968 NBA Draft by the Bullets following the selection of future teammate Elvin Hayes by the Rockets. The Bullets had never had a winning season up to that point of Unseld's arrival. With Unseld the team ran off 10 winning campaigns and made 12 consecutive playoff appearances. Unseld played each of his 13 seasons with the Bullets and was elected to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1988. In 1996, he was named to the NBA 50th Anniversary All-Time Team.

11 ELVIN HAYES

One of the most talented power forwards ever to play the game, Elvin Hayes used his trademark turnaround jumper and aggressive defense to win a secure place in the NBA record books. Fifth on the all-time list in games (1,303) and third in minutes played (50,000), he missed only nine contests in his 16 years in the league, a tribute to his durability and conditioning. An All-Star for each of his first 12 seasons, he scored more points (27,313) than any other player in NBA history except for Kareem Abdul Jabbar, Karl Malone, Michael Jordan, Wilt Chamberlain and Moses Malone. He also ranks fourth on the league's all-time rebounding list with 16,279 boards. Hayes is the franchise leader in points scored with 15,551 and averaged 21.3 points and 12.7 rebounds in his nine seasons with the Bullets that included a world championship in 1978. Hayes attended the University of Houston where he had a standout career highlighted by outscoring Lew Alcindor 39-15 in leading Houston to snap UCLA's 47-game winning streak. Hayes was the first overall pick by the San Diego Rockets in the 1968 NBA Draft. Following four seasons with the Rockets, Hayes was acquired by the Baltimore Bullets in exchange for Jack Marin and future considerations on April 12, 1972. With the Bullets, Hayes moved to the power forward position and teamed with Wes Unseld to form one of the most formidable frontcourts in NBA history. Hayes led Washington to a franchise record 60 wins during the 1974-75 season while being named First Team All-NBA. During Washington's championship run in 1978, Hayes averaged a team-high 21.2 points per game. After a standout career in Washington, Hayes finished his 16-year career with the Houston Rockets. Hayes was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1990 and his #11 jersey is one of only three numbers retired by the Washington Wizards.

25 GUS JOHNSON

Gus Johnson, one of only three players in franchise history to have his jersey retired, was one of 21 finalists named by the North American Screening Committee for election into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame's Class of 2003. Johnson, a native of Akron, Ohio was a devastating force at the power forward position. Johnson's ability to score, pass, and rebound made the Baltimore Bullets a perennial title contender from the mid 1960s to the early 1970's. Johnson, who entered the league following one year at the University of Idaho in 1963, spent nine of his 11 pro seasons with the Bullets. Nicknamed "Honeycomb" for his sweet play, Johnson was a four-time All-NBA Second Team selection (1965, '66, '70, '71), a two-time All-Defensive First Team selection (1970, '71), and was a member of the 1964 NBA All-Rookie team. With Johnson on the roster, the Bullets reached the playoffs six times and advanced to the NBA finals in 1970-71 (4-0 loss to Milwaukee). Statistically, Johnson averaged a double-double (17.1 ppg and 12.7 rpg) in 581 career NBA games. The Washington Bullets retired his jersey number 25 in 1986. On April 29, 1987, Johnson passed away after being diagnosed with an inoperable brain tumor.

1977-78 CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON

Led by Wes Unseld and Elvin Hayes the Washington Bullets captured the franchise's only world championship during the 1977-78 season under new head coach Dick Motta. The Bullets had established themselves as one of the most formidable teams in the 1970's and made two NBA Finals appearances only to lose to Milwaukee in 1971 and to Golden State in 1975, after a season in which the team posted a franchise record 60 victories. Washington finished the 1977-78 season with a 44-38 record and defeated Atlanta and San Antonio in the Eastern Conference Playoffs before upsetting Philadelphia 4-2 for a spot in the NBA Finals versus the Seattle SuperSonics. Seattle erased a 19-point lead at home in Game 1 and took a 1-0 series lead with a 106-102 victory. The series then shifted to the Capital Centre for Game 2 where Bobby Dandridge scored 34 points and Hayes added 25 points as Washington even the series with a 106-98 win. Seattle held off a late Washington rally for a 93-92 win at the Capital Centre in Game 3 as the series shifted to the Kingdome for Game 4. In need of a win, Washington trailed by 15 points late in third quarter but rallied behind Dandridge and Unseld to force overtime where Charles Johnson nailed three field goals as Washington evened the series with a 120-116 overtime win. The series then shifted to the Seattle Coliseum for Game 5, and in their home arena, the Sonics posted a 98-94 win to take a 3-2 series lead. Facing elimination, Washington exploded for 70 points in the second half of Game 6 and increased a 12-point first half lead into a 117-82 victory. The series then returned to Seattle for the seventh and deciding game where Washington played strong defense in forcing the Sonics backcourt of Gus Williams and Dennis Johnson into 4-26 shooting in building an 11-point fourth quarter lead. Seattle fought back in the closing minutes and cut the lead to four with a minute and a half to play. Mitch Kupchak then converted a big three point play but Seattle rallied to cut the lead to 101-99 on a Paul Silas tip-in. Seattle then fouled Unseld, who hit both of his free throws as Washington held on for a 105-99 victory and the franchise's first world championship. The title was the first for the City of Washington, D.C. since the Redskins won the NFL title in 1942. During the playoff run and finals, Motta reminded the media and fans that each series wasn't over until "the fat lady sings," a phrase that is widely associated with 1978 NBA Champion Washington Bullets.

NBA PLAYOFF FORMAT

1. Sixteen teams will qualify for the playoffs. There will be eight teams from each conference, consisting of the two division champions and the six other teams in each conference with the best winning percentage during the regular season.

2. The first round of the playoffs will be a best-of-seven series with all succeeding rounds, including the NBA World Championship Series, being best-of-seven. All playoff teams will participate in the first round, byes that formerly went to division winners have been eliminated. Following are the playoff pairings:

Note: Team 1 in each conference is the division winner with the better record; Team 2 is the other division winner and Teams 3-8 are ranked according to their regular-season winning percentage.

NBA PLAYOFF TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURE

Two-Way Tie

In order to break a tie for playoff positions, if one exists at the close of the regular season, the following criteria will be utilized in the order set forth:

1. Results of games against each other.
2. Better winning percentage within own conference.
3. Better winning percentage within own division (only if tied teams are in the same division).
4. Better winning percentage against playoff opponents in own conference.
5. Point differential in games against each other.
6. Better point differential between offense and defense.

More Than Two Teams Tied

1. Best cumulative winning percentage in total games involving all teams tied.
2. Best winning percentage within own conference.
3. Best winning percentage within own division (only if tied teams are in same division).
4. Best winning percentage against playoff opponents in own conference.
5. Best point differential between offense and defense.

If a multiple team tie is reduced to a two-team tie at any point using the above criteria, the two-team tie will be resolved in accordance with the existing two-team tie procedure.

DAVE JOHNSON

Radio Play-By-Play Announcer

This is the eighth consecutive season that Dave Johnson is the voice of the Wizards on WTEM (AM 980) and the Wizards Radio Network. Johnson also serves as the host of the popular weekly television show "Wizards Magazine".

Johnson is also the sports director and award-winning morning sports anchor for WTOP (AM 1500). On Comcast SportsNet, Johnson is the television play-by-play voice of DC United (MLS) and also frequently anchors the network's daily shows.

Johnson received an Emmy as host of the NHL's Washington Capitals "Face Off" television show. He has also been an anchor on WTTG-TV 5 and has done television play-by-play of college football, NBA basketball, college basketball and lacrosse. His soccer television work includes appearances on ESPN, FOX, and PAX networks.

A graduate of Towson University, Dave and his wife Diane live in Annapolis, MD with their son, Pierce.

STEVE BUCKHANTZ

Television Play-By-Play Announcer

Popular Washington, DC sportscaster Steve Buckhantz begins his eighth season as television play-by-play voice of the Washington Wizards. In 2003 he was awarded an Emmy for his work with the Washington Wizards and Comcast SportsNet.

A 30-year veteran of radio and TV, Buckhantz joined the Wizards broadcasts following nearly 14 years as Sports Director and lead sports anchor at Fox owned WTTG-TV in DC. He also anchored sports at TV stations in Atlanta, GA, Nashville, TN, Chattanooga, TN and Harrisonburg, VA. Buckhantz' work includes play-by-play for the "NFL ON FOX," and from 1991-'97 was the radio play-by-play voice of the US Naval Academy Football team.

Born in Washington, DC, Buckhantz grew up in Arlington, VA and holds a BS Degree in Communication Arts from James Madison University. In 1996 he was honored with JMU's Distinguished Alumni Award. Buckhantz is involved with numerous charities, and for the past nine years has been the spokesman for the annual Steve Buckhantz/St. Jude Celebrity golf tournament to benefit the Children's Hospital in Memphis, TN.

PHIL CHENIER

Television Analyst

Phil Chenier will provide color commentary for the 20th straight season. Chenier played nine of his 10 NBA seasons for Washington and made three all-star appearances. Chenier averaged 20 points per game for five consecutive seasons ('72-73 through '76-77) and was All-NBA second team in 1974-75, when he finished eighth in the MVP voting. He retired in 1981 after scoring 9,931 points in 578 career games, an average of 17.2 ppg.

During the summer, Chenier extends his basketball expertise at his youth basketball camp co-directed by David DuPree, sports columnist for USA Today. He lives in Columbia, MD, and has three children, April, Phillip and Adelle.

Media Information

The Wizards Public Relations Staff is looking forward to assisting you in your coverage of the Washington Wizards throughout the 2004-2005 NBA season. In an effort to continue to provide a professional working environment, please adhere to the following guidelines for the season. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Zack Bolno, Josh Sekine or Matt Williams in the Wizards Public Relations Department.

Credentials: Single game and season credentials should be requested in writing on company letterhead to the Wizards Public Relations Office. Single game credentials should be requested at least 24 hours in advance. Press and photo credentials are issued to accredited media members and will admit the bearer to the press room, locker rooms and press row. Credentials may be picked up at the press gate. Credentials must be visibly worn at all times.

Press Room: The press room will be open 1 1/2 hours prior to game time, during the game and following the game. We must limit press room usage to members of the media only. The professional intent of the press room is to provide a meeting and working place for writers, reporters, broadcasters and game personnel. Any abuse of the press room and/or press privileges will result in the forfeiture of your press pass. The working area of the press room is equipped with a fax machine, telephones, statistics, post-game quotes and other NBA scores.

Locker Room: In accordance with NBA policy, both the Wizards and the visiting locker rooms will be open to members of the media up to 45 minutes before game time and 10 minutes after the end of the game. Head Coach Eddie Jordan will meet with the media in the interview room following the game. No autographs are allowed during media access periods. The used of cell phones by the media in the locker room is strictly prohibited. If you need to use your phone during open media time pre-game and post-game, please exit the locker room and re-enter when your call is complete.

Photographers: Limited space is available at each end of the court for both television and still photographers holding proper credentials. Photographers must stay in the designated areas and are asked to be considerate of spectators seated directly behind them. Still photographers are not allowed in NBA locker rooms.

Meals: A pre-game meal will be served in the press room prior to each game. In addition, beverages and snacks will be available at halftime and post-game.

Game Notes and Statistics: Pre-game press notes, media guides and line-up sheets will be available in the interview room prior to each game. Game statistics will be distributed to the working media during the game and will be available in the press room.

Media Information and Services: Please contact Zack Bolno, Josh Sekine or Matt Williams in the Wizards Public Relations Office at (202) 661-5000. Fax number is (202) 661-5113. For information on practice schedules or other pertinent information regarding the Wizards, please call the Wizards Media Information Hotline at 202-628-3200 ext: 6397 after 9 a.m. daily.
